

I Shall Arise and Shine

Today, I declare that I shall arise and shine, for the light of the Lord has risen upon me.

I declare that every spirit of heaviness, discouragement, and delay is broken by the power of God.

I declare that I will not remain in the shadows of yesterday, for God is calling me into a season of renewed hope and purpose.

I declare that the Lord is clothing me with strength, dignity, and favour.

I declare that doors of opportunity, ministry, and blessing are opening before me according to God's perfect plan.

I declare that no voice of fear, doubt, or condemnation will silence the purpose of God within me.

I declare that the wisdom of God will direct my thoughts, the peace of God will guard my heart, and the joy of the Lord will sustain my spirit.

I declare that the Lord is restoring what was lost, healing what was wounded, and reviving what has grown weary.

I declare that I will be a light in my family, a blessing in my community, and a witness of God's grace wherever I go.

I declare that this day will not be wasted, for I will walk in obedience, faith, and expectation.

I declare that God's glory shall be seen upon my life, and many shall glorify Him because of His goodness toward me.

Scripture for Today

"Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee." — Isaiah 60:1

Declaration

I shall arise and shine. I shall not be hidden, defeated, or discouraged. The Lord is my light, His glory rests upon me, and His purpose for my life shall be fulfilled. Amen.
